Oxford County United Parish
Embracing Albany, North Lovell, Stoneham and the Waterfalls, Pastoral Staff: Revs. W. I. Bull, B. F. Wentworth, A. C. Townsend

Rev. and Mrs. Bull attended the Convocation at Bangor, Sunday last week, and report a very successful session, with very helpful lectures.

On account of the number of cases of the prevailing distemper, no church services were held there last Sunday. The service at Albany were omitted also, on account of the weather. Revs. Bull and Wentworth left for Bangor on Sunday afternoon to attend a Rural Church Workers' Conference to be held on Monday.

Rev. A. C. Townsend was called to attend the funeral of Mr. W. W. Durgin, who was a Civil War veteran and perhaps the last member of the military service to leave the county. He was born in Albany and came to Bangor from Washington to Springfield.

On Sunday evening, William Jordan of Waterford passed away at the home of a relative at Norway Lake. Mr. Jordan had had a long illness. The funeral was held at his late home in Waterford on Wednesday afternoon, attended by Rev. A. C. Townsend.

Moving pictures will be shown this week at the usual time and place.

On the Sunday evenings during the month of February there will be shown the different churches a stereoscopic lecture on "The Negro in the South." The schedule of dates and places has not yet been arranged.

SUMNER-LABRADOR POND
Double Funeral Held—Ellen Spaulding, Ill.
Relatives and friends of Charles and Winslow Young of South Paris were gathered to learn of their death which occurred Friday, Jan. 25, within a few hours of each other. They had both been in very poor health for a long time. A double funeral was held at the Universalist church, Sunday, at 2:30 o'clock.

Ellen Spaulding was taken very suddenly with appendicitis Sunday, January 27, late in the afternoon and was operated on at 11:30 that evening at her home. It is understood that the operation was successful and she is resting as comfortably as could be expected. Edith Braden is the nurse in attendance.

James Meserve, of Green, one of the men employed at Hodgkins Mill, situated in the Gammon estate at Hartford is boarding at LeLand Andrews'.

Julian Dyer and Lawrence Andrews are working in the woods helping out the lumber that is being hauled to the Hodgkins' Mill.

Not much snow, but a crust of ice for traveling, but plenty of cold, windy weather.

Frederick Stetson's family, who are sick with "flu" are improving. Mrs. Briggs from Canton is caring for the sick ones and William Sellinger is doing their chores.

Nella and Georgia Dyer were home over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Israel Gammon, who have been ill are both much improved in health.

Laurie Holmes was home Sunday from Auburn where she has employment.

Herman Redding and Lena Andrews were callers recently, on her brother-in-law, LeLand Andrews, and family.

Julian Dyer was in South Paris Sunday, to attend the funeral of Charles and Winslow Young.

GILBERTVILLE
Many Ill in Town
Mrs. Isabelle Gammon was called to Frye, Sunday, by the critical illness of her father, Mr. Delano.

Mrs. Crystal Bennett of Norway is in town, called here by the critical illness of her father and mother.

Eugene Ellis has been confined to the house a week with a severe cold.

Dexter Gurney, Jr., who is working in Turner, spent the week end at his home here.

Mrs. G. Albert Ellis, who has been confined to the house with a cold, is better.

Miss Lena McCollister of Mexico has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Marjorie Weld.

The children of Chris Allamach are ill with chicken pox.

Rodney McCollister is suffering with a severe cold.

Matel Warren, who has been suffering with an abscess on her arm, from the effects of vaccination, is better.

Mrs. George Burgess is suffering from a severe cold.

Mrs. Margaret Hutchinson of Berry Mills has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Small.

After a long session, the Songo School closed for a vacation.

Elmo Saunders went to his aunt's for a week's visit, Sunday.

Clarence McAllister, who has been boarding at Carl Penley's, returned to his home last week.

Mrs. Donahue is fast on the road to recovery.

Sarah Saunders was a Sunday visitor at Roscoe Emery's, her son, Elmo, met her at the Bethel station.

"Dolly" Latham is hauling pulp wood for Abner Kimball.

George Logan spent the week end with his brother, Carlton Penley.

Jose Vashar was a caller at Carl Penley's, Sunday, returning to Rumford, Monday morning.

Mrs. Herman Brown spent the afternoon at Mrs. Emma's, January 25th.

"AY" Morris left, Sunday, for Norway, where he will commence work in the shoe shop.

Floyd Kimball spent Sunday afternoon at Mrs. Maude Vashar's.

Adelaide Ramsell for the past week has been a guest of Mrs. Charlie Gorman.

Eva and Mildred Kimball spent one evening last week with Mr. and Mrs. George Brown.

"Pat" Murphy has commenced cutting ice for Carlton Penley.

Muskat raising has the advantage over the production of most other fur-bearing animals in that muskrats feed and breed when left to themselves, and all the owner of a marshland has to do is to maintain an attitude of "watchful waiting" until the trapping season. Muskrat fur is increasing in popularity, and muskrat raising should receive consideration in any agricultural plan of land utilization, according to the Biological Survey of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Marshes provide the food; the muskrats take care of themselves and, being prolific, will produce enough young for the trapping season.

Stops Hang-On Coughs
A neglected cough can lead to a lot of trouble. But if you use Adamson's Balsam the first thing—there's no danger. The first dose relaxes strained throat muscles, breaks up, and expels phlegm and heals irritated membrane. That stops the coughing. With that over—other ingredients, acting through blood attack the germs at seat of trouble and in a day or two all danger is gone. Adamson's Balsam contains no dope or anything harmful. 35c and 75c. At all drug stores. A safe, pleasant cough and sore throat medicine for children. Get a bottle today.

Heard and Seen at Advertiser Office

John Woodman: "The custom of sending valentines originated in the year of the Roman emperor, Claudius, who on the feast of Februa Juno drew names of girls to whom they were to devote themselves during the coming year. I used to do that way when young."

The Weary Club has decided: "No husband or wife can be free to come and go as he or she pleases. The very essence of marriage is that it is a tie that binds."

Overheard on the street when passing a group of talking women: "Yes, he gives his daughter $225 a month. It isn't enough. Last month she spent $500 on hose and dresses alone. But what can you expect of a daughter whose father has his name in electric lights over the gate at his home and painted in big letters on his cars?"

Kennedy Gurney: "It might be interesting to some people to know that there is a range of the highest mountain and the depth of the ocean."

Leon Schenk, four old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schenk of Lone Pine Farm Pike Hill astonished his folks the other morning at breakfast by saying, "There are only three men and one woman I love." "Well, who are they?" inquired the parents. "Well," says the little fellow, "Daddy, Mamma, Santa Claus, and the Rattlesnake man." It seems the Rattlesnake man always presents the young fellow with some gun when he calls.

Some years ago Judge Pattenall wrote regarding Obediah Gardner as follows: "Like a true Granger he has long ago discarded the plow for a private car, put his horse into a long distance telephone and turned his cabbage leaves into telephone blanks."

It looks now as if he spoke the truth of all the farmers, of the nation, including the blueberry pickers and potato raisers.

We want to read John J. Ingalls' "Catfish Aristocracy." Will borrow or buy a copy. Won't want our readers tell us where we can get it?

What Don Sells don't know, he makes inquiries to find out at the door of his house. "I don't know, but I don't know," he says. "What kind of a boot-leg concealer is 'mable sweet'?" It seems to be flowing down in the Virginia valley, where I see it by the Woodstock Herald an expert at making it has just been set to building roads under the supervision of the sheriff. It may have merit."

Cheering news sent in from nearby: "It was ten below at our door this morning. At the foot of the hill the glass registered 20, and over at the river it was down to thirty. Cold enough. But I see that the smoke hangs low in the valley, a sure indication of warmer weather, with either a thaw or a rain. My son-in-law says he will take the family South next winter. Fuel bill and extra clothing is a big tax here."

"The calendar appearing in your Jan. 15th. edition is good for two hundred years and more. It is some out of the usual and should be saved for future reference. Thus writes Frank E. Mitchell who loaned us the use of the plate. The original drawing was done by George A. M. Alexander, N. Y. with pen and ink. "The artist has passed to the land of Nevermore."

Chester Hammond of Portland formerly employed on the Oxford Democrat has been a visitor in the back shop. He works in the print shop of the Southworth Press and with his wife is taking a short vacation in South Paris.

Walter L. Waite says we are giving away flies tied by him. This breaking an agreement. No more flies of his make will come our way. We feel he accuses us wrongfully and without sufficient evidence. This is how he put it up:

Walter says that George Stanton said that Newton Newkirk told him that Fred Sanborn gave him a long-tailed fly and he (Newkirk) caught an 8 pound salmon with it, which is now being mounted by Nash of Maine. The fish, he says, bears unmistakable evidence of having been lured to its death on one of "The Last Resorts." How he tells, is unknown. to us. We claim to be wrongfully accused even though we did give Mr. Newkirk a fly. It might have been one of Mrs. Stevens' make, who knows? We don't.

Skaters keep away from the bog above Cumming's mill, and the lake. The gates are open, the water being drawn down and the ice is now safe. The gates will be in force for a number of weeks, so skating must be found elsewhere.

Two copies of "The Clark News" comes to our desk. It is published in Worcester by the undergraduates of Clark University of that city. Horace A. Brown of Norway is assistant managing editor that accounts for our receiving them. Horace did good work on this paper last summer. Somebody is doing the same on the News. It is a fine column, but short and has a business look about it. Price $2.00, single copies five cents. It carries a reasonable amount of advertising and is giving the boys practical experience.

E. G. Farnum: "Want to renew my subscription to the paper? No, I don't want to do anything, but can't get along without it. Only way I have of knowing what my neighbors are doing." In speaking of the recent snow storms and ice he said: "Wish that tractor would let the snow alone up our way when there is only a few inches of it. Here last week it came up and cleared off the few inches that came, then it warmed up and melted it down in many places to the girls and had to haul ice over it all the week with one runner in the ice, the other on the dirt. Would like to see that tractor work in some storm like we had nine years ago—we may get some yet."

F. E. Mitchell: "In New York I was offered the nomination of Assemblyman, with the promise that if I made good (did as instructed) at Albany, that I could then have the Congressional nomination and go to Washington. And these nominations were made by the Cumming Hall had no difficulty in electing its nominees in my district. But I could see nothing attractive in it."

It is a pretty folder and shows off Meredith, N. H. to good advantage, but not a bit better than the town deserves. They have all the attractions and even more than is shown in the booklet. They have a lot of good people there, as well as beautiful lakes, mountains, fish and scenery. It shows the water on which we fished as a boy and the growth and enterprise of the town since we left. We feel it is the best exploiting edition of any issued in New Hampshire. It is home designed and printed by the News Job Print, Meredith, N. H.

Auto chains and number plates lead the list for found articles of late. These were here waiting on one of our desks by paying the price of the Intelligence ad, advertising same.

SEND LIST CIVIL WAR SOLDIERS

A few weeks ago our correspondent in Stow suggested that the correspondents or some one interested in the Oxford County towns, give a list of the Civil War veterans of their towns with other interesting facts.

This is a fine thing to do—send them in. One town, Lowell, responded last week and the item printed in last week's issue. Denmark has responded—here is what the writer of Denmark has to say: "Bridgton's oldest citizen since the passing of Elnah Littlefield, is Joseph Gammon, 90, a veteran of the Civil War. Besides Mr. Gammon, the Bridgton can claim nine veterans of the Civil War, as follows: Granville Burnell, William Bridgman, Lorenzo Courser, Albion Carsey, at Togus, Rufus Allen, Charles Foster, Lieutenant H. D. Littlefield, David Saunders and Alpheus Richardson."

In answer to the roll call for '61 soldiers, will say there is only one left of the 125 who went to the front in '61-'65 from Denmark. That is one of the soldier's widows, and would like very much to hear from other towns. I am well past eighty, so please hurry up.

Brother Waterman, poet of Mechanic Falls, comes back to us in this manner: "Thanks for the notice of 'Contemporary Poets.' I had expected something piquant and original. I got it."

"But you can't slam poets, because you are disqualified—because you had the disease yourself. Some years ago, when you were 'under the weather' over in Meredith, N. H. and writing 'Barn Door Sketches' if I remember right, you came out one week with something like this: 'The weather Has been fine; And so Have I. 'This is poetry—the best I ever wrote.'"

"That was a gem, Fred. I would have liked to have written that. By the way: I have sent your letter review, with others, to Baker, so I don't know what will happen to it, but I herewith give you warnings."

The citizens of South Paris will extend congratulations to the snowshoe racers from Montreal Thursday, who are expected to finish the lap from Bethel early in the afternoon. A grand reception and dance for the winners will be given at the hotel. The final dash for Lewiston will be made Friday morning.

An itinerant entertainer's pictorial banner hanging from windows in the Opera House and above the store of Elliot A. Fuller started the village jokers on a new line. Pictured on the banner is a hand-cuff king doing his stuff, with the explanation, "Escape Artist" and "Masked Marvel." His clerk, Oliver Foss, are busy answering the question which of the two is the escape artist and which the man behind the mask.

A business telegram of 289 words was sent from Chicago to the law office of Robert Dow on Tuesday. This might be nothing unusual for a news story to a publication, but quite out of the ordinary in the line of brevity observed in general business.

We do hope the ground hog will see his shadow. We want more winter so we can burn oil.

STATION C-U-B-S

Cup Reporter Announcing

Merry Christmas, everyone! Isn't it just great to think that that merry old Santa Claus is about to arrive once more? Just think of all the wonderful presents he is going to bring us. "This said that boys and little boys and girls receive presents, but you know I don't have to worry about getting mine because I was told that I am in a class all by myself. Golly, I don't know just what was meant by that, but I guess it's all right."

Anyway, I'm pretty sure that he will leave the Ward 8 Club a real lively, bounding hockey team—in fact, it's the way now; and when it gets here (which will be very soon) we will immediately claim the hockey championship of Oxford County and let any other aspirants to the title try to beat us. Blah! Blah!—I have spoken. So saith the Great Spirits (of Ammonia).

He will also leave us—the being extra good little boys—another New Year in which to enjoy ourselves to the utmost. We will take advantage of this latter present and get in our full measure of fun and "whoops." Next week we celebrate our "annual"! You can't begin to realize the wonderful time we will have at this party. Just to give you an inkling of what it will be—all the enjoyable programmes that could be conceived from four very imaginative minds acting as a committee for entertainment.

Yeah! and—Well, I'll be d—d. Oh! please excuse the Russian, but Walter Chandler just kindly reminded me that Christmas took place just a month and five days ago and therefore this Merry Christmas gag might just as well go into the waste basket. Now if that wouldn't make your knock-kneed grandmother bow-legged.

Well, be as it may, but a hockey team we'll have and our happy gatherings also. Yes, of course our challenge still stands. Bring on you who won't be title aspirants. Address all CUBS correspondence to Senior Cub, Leslie Gammon, and he will forward it to the proper Cub committee.

Good-night, boys and girls. See you all when there is only a few inches of it. Here last week it came up and cleared off the few inches that came, then it warmed up and melted it down in many places to the girls and had to haul ice over it all the week with one runner in the ice, the other on the dirt. Would like to see that tractor work in some storm like we had nine years ago—we may get some yet."

the money will be turned over to the Superintendent at the village. Dorothy Millett, Marion Millett, Lillian and Kenneth Lovejoy have received their bronze pins for four successive Sundays attendance.

C. H. Sargent: "I called on C. G. Blaine today, (Wednesday) and he is bright and cheerful, though confined to the room and bed most of the time. He occasionally sits on the veranda in the sun. He seems anxious to see me. I remained only a few minutes as I did not want to tire him."

The boys' and girls' basket ball teams journey across the line, Friday evening to meet Paris High School in the gym. A large delegation from the school will form the cheering section. This has been the annual mid-winter event for both schools with plenty of keen rivalry and good financial returns. The games for Norway are scheduled for March 6.

B. G. McIntire & Son shipped a quantity of lumber from their mill for delivery with more to follow within a few days.

Tom Austin, day fireman at the W. F. Tubbs Co., has given up the job and is enjoying a vacation for a while.

NORTH LOVELL

Leland Wilson's family, who have been sick with the flu, are all better.

Mrs. Lottie Palmer had had a grip cold the past week, but is better and able to attend to her school duties.

Mrs. Josephine Bacon was a dinner guest at Anne McKen's, Saturday.

Several of the young people were skating on the lake, Saturday afternoon. There has not been the usual good time skating, for lack of snow so far this winter.

CENTER LOVELL

Jolly-Ats Club

The Jolly-Ats Club met with Mrs. Alford, Monday, January 28, at seven o'clock in the morning in the shape of German Shepherd pups.

The first prize went to the mother, as she had the highest score and we think it is lucky that no one doubted the bid. The consolation will come later when we can find homes for them all. A one-course cafeteria lunch was served at noon and the members enjoyed the delicious food.

Members! please note change of hours and govern yourselves accordingly, and if you are in need of an apartment, apply to Maude Silkworth.

Fryeburg Center and Menotomy

Mrs. P. C. Dennett has gone to Intervale, N. H., to cook at "The Bellevue" during the winter carnival.

Frank Goldthwaite and family were Sunday guests at J. W. Goldthwaite's.

John Stearns and family visited Charles Stevens and family, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wiley were Sunday callers at Wilfred Springer's.

Francis Buzzell has returned home from Maine General Hospital at Portland and is getting on his feet.

Another whist party will be held at I. O. O. F. Hall, Saturday night.

Monday night, Jan. 28, Fryeburg Grange will have the 3rd and 4th degrees on one candidate.

All the many sick ones seem to be on the gain in this vicinity.

Radio Law Affects Maine

(From Portland Press Herald)

It has been suggested by the radio commission in Washington, to have a law enacted prohibiting broadcasting stations to use more than 10,000 watts and to limit the maximum power that may be used to this figure.

The only known way to overcome static, which interferes so seriously with reception, is to use more power. Stations with a maximum power of 10,000 watts may satisfactorily serve the people living within a certain radius of the station but beyond that radius the reception of such broadcasting is uncertain and "sketchy." It is only the big powered stations that can be relied upon, the stations using more than 10,000 watts, some of them using as much as 50,000 watts.

This proposed law vitally concerns every radio owner in Maine. If it is passed, if a limit of 10,000 watts is placed on broadcasting power that can be used, then nearly all of the radio owners in Maine will practically be deprived of the pleasure and use they now get from their receiving sets. Maine is in the Northeast corner of the Country. All the broadcasting stations of any power to the west of this State.

Some of them are as far west as Cincinnati, Ohio. If they are cut down, then the radio owners in Maine will get very little of their money under normal conditions, and when atmospheric conditions are bad, they will get little or nothing.

The proposed law will practically eliminate the value of stations WLW, WGY, WZLW, and WJZ, all high powered stations. When these stations are taken off the dial, so far as the average radio owner is concerned, the radio receiving sets now owned in this State will be of little use.

To be sure by "tuning up" these sets, purchasing more tubes, buying more expensive sets, using more electricity, radio owners may get reception from stations using 10,000 watts, but they cannot get the big stations from which emanate the finest and most expensive programs.

In this emergency there is only one thing for Maine people to do and if it is to be at all effective it must be done immediately. Letters must be written forthwith to Maine's senators and representatives in Congress urging them to oppose the law that is proposed and to use their influence in Congress to prevent such a law being given any consideration.

While we are about it we might also say that Maine people ought to make an effort to have the wave length allotted station WWSH in Portland extended to more than 500 meters. With a longer wave length this Maine station would prove of greater value to the State. As matters now stand a check wave length WWSH cannot be heard at all in some parts of the State and reception from it is "sketchy" outside of a radius of 40 or 50 miles of Portland.

The radio commission has declared that the broadcasting power of WWSH should be increased. But to do this will necessitate a further investment of at least $50,000. The sum now invested in the owners of station WWSH is large and it will probably be some time before anyone will build a broadcasting station in Maine with greater power than WWSH now has. Having a Maine station which can cover a larger territory than WWSH now covers at times is a valuable asset to all the people of Maine and because of the peculiar conditions in this State radio owners here should exert their influence to have the radio commission change the wave length of this local station.

It is estimated that there are now in use in Maine more than 60,000 radio sets. The number of such sets in use in the rural sections of the State are greater proportionately than in the populated areas. In the case of the cities and large towns. It is estimated that the "saturation" of radio sets in Maine is over 50 per cent. This means that over half of the families in Maine now own radio receiving sets of some kind. The average cost of the sets now in use is estimated to be $90. If these figures are correct there is now invested in radio receiving sets in Maine more than $5,000,000.

This investment is being steadily increased. The trend is towards the use of more costly radio sets, and this is rendered necessary in Maine because this State gets its radio programs entirely from the West and North, having no broadcasting stations on the East and none on the South.

If the proposed law limiting the power of broadcasting stations to 10,000 watts is passed by Congress, then fully 50 per cent of the radio apparatus now in use in this State will be of little or no value. The people will be compelled to invest twice as much money as they have now spent for radio sets if they are to get any service at all and when they have done this the service they get will not be nearly as satisfactory as it is with stations in operation, from at least one of which they may now, under all conditions, get something at any time.

Maine Senators and Congressmen should take a peculiar interest in protecting the radio users of this State because their handicaps, under the most favorable conditions, are much greater than are those of any other radio owners in any part of the Country.

Our people, who own radio sets, should immediately seek to impress upon the Senators and Representatives in Congress from Maine, that they desire to have their rights protected. If there is delay in doing this there will soon come a time when most of the radio receiving sets owned in Maine will be as dumb as the proverbial oxen, practically useless when atmospheric conditions are bad and within limited range when they are at their best.

Only by saving the high powered stations and having a longer wave length of station WWSH extended, can radio owners in Maine hope to get any satisfaction out of their radio investments.
